CENTRE REVIEWS MORE THAN 3,300 PROJECTS AT VARIOUS IMPLEMENTATION STAGES

PRAGATI @50: ₹85-lakh cr projects fast-tracked across key sectors

FE BUREAU
New Delhi, January 2

PROJECTS WORTH ₹85 LAKH crore, spanning roads, railways, power, airports, and urban infrastructure, were accelerated under the Centre's flagship PRA-GATI platform, underscoring how technology-driven coordination has reshaped India's project implementation landscape. As PRAGATI completed 50 review meetings, the mechanism has emerged as a key institutional tool to tackle chronic delays and cost overruns in large public projects, Cabinet Secretary TV Somanathan said.

"The platform is also preventive. We have prevented time and cost overruns in many projects by raising issues promptly before they arise, especially on critical projects," Somanathan said.

Conceived in 2015 as Pro-Active Governance and Timely Implementation, PRA-GATI was designed to address

TACKLING CHRONIC DELAYS

Issue resolution under PRAGATI-led Ecosystem

- Land acquisition
- Forest /wildlife/ environmental
- Right of use/way
- Others
- Construction (Approval)
- Power utility (Approval)
- Law and order
- Financial issue

As per PRAGATI/PMG Portal

TV SOMANATHAN,
CABINET SECRETARY

We have prevented time, cost overruns in projects by raising issues promptly before they arise, especially on critical projects

three persistent coordination failures: between central ministries, between the Centre and states, and within the state governments.

At its apex, the Prime Minister directly reviews stalled projects and underperforming schemes with chief secretaries and senior central officials, cutting through layers of administrative silos.

According to the PRAGATI and Project Monitoring Group (PMG) portal, over 3,300 projects with an aggregate value exceeding ₹85 lakh crore are currently under various stages of review.

In addition, 61 major government schemes — including One Nation One Ration Card, PM Jan Arogya Yojana, PM Awas Yojana and Swachh Bharat Mission — are tracked, along with citizen grievances across 36 sectors ranging from banking and insurance to RERA and social welfare.

The impact is visible in numbers. Of the 7,735 issues flagged across projects and schemes, 7,156 have been resolved so far, translating into a resolution rate of over 90%. For projects directly reviewed by the Prime Minister, 2,958 out of 3,187 issues have been settled, with land acquisition, environmental clearances and right-of-way disputes accounting for the bulk of bottlenecks.

Several long-pending marquee projects have moved to completion under PRAGATI's oversight. The Jammu-Udhampur-Srinagar-Baramulla rail link, approved in 1994, was commissioned in 2025 after progress accelerated post-PRAGATI reviews. Similarly, the Navi Mumbai International Airport, stuck for years, became operational in December 2025 following sustained monitoring.

An external study by Oxford University's Said Business School has described PRAGATI as a global benchmark in digital governance, calling it a "single source of truth" for real-time project monitoring and cooperative federalism.

Tata, Motherson lead ₹41,863 cr ECMS nods

OJASVI GUPTA
New Delhi, January 2

MOBILE PHONE ENCLOSURES emerged as the biggest focus area as the government on Friday cleared 22 projects under the Electronics Components Manufacturing Scheme (ECMS) worth ₹41,863 crore with homegrown Tata Electronics and the Motherson Group, along with Foxconn's India arm Yuzhan Technology, leading the list of beneficiaries.

The approvals and projected production worth ₹2.58 lakh crore, are expected to generate nearly 33,791 direct jobs. Enclosures alone accounted for over ₹27,000 crore of the total investment, highlighting government's push to localise high-value, scale-intensive components in the smart-phone supply chain.

Under the third tranche, Ministry of Electronics and IT (MeitY) has also cleared several first-of-their-kind projects including the first anode material plant for lithium-ion cells, second laminate project for printed circuit boards (PCB), and aluminium extrusion facility for mobile enclosures.

Colder weather boosts Rabi crop outlook

LAST LEG PRODUCTION

Sowing progress of rabi (winter) crops

In million hectare % change, y-o-y

SANDIP DAS
New Delhi, January 2

FAVOURABLE WEATHER CONDITIONS like early onset of winter and adequate soil moisture has given a boost to sowing of key rabi crops like wheat, pulses (gram) and oilseeds (mustard). The conditions are also conducive for fast crop development. While the winter sown crops are at the last leg, overall area sown is marginally higher than last year at 61.4 million hectare (mha), against normal sown area of 63.78 mha. While sowing of wheat is completed barring some part of Bihar while cool weather conditions prevailing has boosted crop prospects.

An official said recent spell of rains in Gujarat and Rajasthan would help the standing crop. So far wheat is sown in 32.2 mha, marginally higher on year.

With prospects of another bumper crop projected for 2025-26 crop year (July-June) following a record 117.9 MT of wheat production in 2024-25, the government may have to lift the ban on the wheat exports imposed in May 2022 ease glut-like situation developing.

"Initial field reports indicate good sowing progress and favourable weather conditions, pointing towards another potentially bumper wheat crop. With the minimum support price (MSP) at a satisfactory level, the outlook appears positive," Navneet Chitlangia, President, Roller Flour Millers' Federation of India, told FE.

At present, the Food Corporation of India (FCI) holds a surplus wheat stock of 28.06 MT against the buffer of 13.8 MT for January 1. While area under pulses is higher at 13.34 million hectare compared to last year, sowing of gram is currently at 9.58 mha, 5% higher than last year.

"Favourable weather so far has supported steady sowing and healthy early crop development across key chana-growing regions. January weather will be decisive—not only for completing sowing, but also for yield formation," Harsha Rai, Head, Mayur Global Corporation, a leading pulses trading firm, said.
