EXPORTS TO US ROSE 11.38% TO $59.04 BN DURING APR-NOV

Further tariff hike by US on India may hit exports

■ Bilateral trade stood at $131.84 bn in FY25

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 5

ANY MOVE BY the US to further increase tariffs or import duties on Indian goods could severely impact the country's exports to Washington, experts said. However, they said, it may also push exporters to accelerate diversification and de-risk their overseas markets.

US President Donald Trump, speaking to reporters on Sunday, said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi knew he was unhappy with India's purchases of Russian oil and that Washington could raise tariffs on New Delhi "very quickly". The experts added that as the tariff threat hardens, India must take a 'clean call' on Russian oil.

"Indian exports to the US have already fallen 20.7% between May and November 2025, and further tariff escalation could trigger a steeper decline," economic think tank GTRI said on Monday. It said that Indian goods are already facing a steep 50% tariff, with 25% tied directly to Russian crude purchases.

"India, unlike China, does not have strategic leverage over the US. China is the biggest buyer of Russian crude, but the US has ignored it, fearing consequences. India has doubled imports of petroleum crude and products from the US, but the US will ignore this," Global Trade Research Initiative (GTRI) Founder Ajay Srivastava said.

Apex exporters' body FIEO too said that beyond the existing 50% tariff, a further hike by the US "will badly hit Indian exports, particularly in traditional sectors of exports".

"But they can also act as a catalyst for faster diversification and de-risking. While some price-sensitive trade may shrink, such pressures encourage exporters to reduce over-dependence on a single market, explore alternative destinations, and upgrade products and processes," Federation of Indian Export Organisations (FIEO) Director General Ajay Sahai said.

He added that the transition may be challenging for some sectors, but in sectors like marine products, where exporters have diversified markets within a short span, it shows that the Indian industry can adapt quickly.

"Similar adjustments are likely across other sectors, ultimately leading to a more balanced, resilient, and globally diversified export portfolio," Sahai said. After recording negative growth for two consecutive months, India's merchandise exports to the US rose 22.61% to $6.98 billion in November despite the steep tariffs on domestic goods.

During the April-November period of this fiscal year, the country's exports to the US increased 11.38% to $59.04 billion, while imports rose 13.49% to $35.4 billion.

The threat by the US President came at a time when the two countries were negotiating a bilateral trade agreement (BTA). So far, six rounds of negotiations have been held for that. The pact includes a framework deal to resolve the 50% tariffs on Indian goods entering America.

On December 23 last year, Commerce Secretary Rajesh Agrawal said India is actively engaged in trade discussions with the US, and hopes to conclude the talks "sooner than later" in a manner that restores deeper market access for domestic exporters.

US Deputy Trade Representative

Rick Switzer was recently in India with his team to take stock of these talks. The latest round of two-day talks concluded on December 11, 2025.

The Indian industry and exporters are eagerly awaiting the conclusion of negotiations and the announcement of a deal, as high import duties are hurting their shipments to America.

Though they are exploring other markets to maintain their export profits, the US remains a key destination for them, accounting for about 18% of their exports.

As part of the pact, the US is seeking duty concessions on agricultural products such as almonds, corn, and apples, as well as on industrial goods. India has strongly opposed any concessions in the agri and dairy sectors. India has stated that it will not compromise the interests of farmers and MSMEs.

In February 2025, leaders of the two countries directed officials to negotiate an agreement. It was planned to conclude the first tranche of the pact by the fall of 2025. The agreement aims to more than double bilateral trade to $500 billion by 2030, from the current $191 billion.

The US remained India's largest trading partner for the fourth consecutive year in 2024-25, with bilateral trade valued at $131.84 billion, including $86.5 billion in exports.

Import curbs on low-ash metallurgical coke removed

THE GOVERNMENT HAS removed import restrictions on low-ash metallurgical coke, having ash content below 18%, according to a notification. The restrictions were removed as the government has imposed an anti-dumping duty on low-ash metallurgical coke.

"Import of low-ash metallurgical coke (having ash content below 18%), including coke fines/coke breeze and ultra-low phosphorous metallurgical coke, is free," the Directorate General of Foreign Trade has said in a notification dated January 3. On December 31, the government had extended import restrictions on low-ash metallurgical coke from January 1 till June 30, 2026.

The extension was approved because of the non-application of anti-dumping duty on the import of low-ash metallurgical coke, according to an official.

Govt removes import curbs on low-ash metallurgical coke

THE GOVERNMENT HAS removed import restrictions on low-ash metallurgical coke, having ash content below 18%, according to a notification. The restrictions were removed as the government has imposed an anti-dumping duty on low-ash metallurgical coke.

India has imposed provisional anti-dumping duty on low-ash metallurgical coke imports for six months

"Import of low-ash metallurgical coke (having ash content below 18%), including coke fines/coke breeze and ultra-low phosphorous metallurgical coke, is free," the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has said in a notification dated January 3. On December 31, the government had extended import restrictions on low-ash metallurgical coke from January 1 till June 30, 2026.

The extension was approved because of the non-application of anti-dumping duty on the import of low-ash metallurgical coke, according to an official.

"But the Ministry of Finance accepted the imposition of anti-dumping duty; therefore, the restriction was removed by the DGFT," the official added.

German Chancellor Merz's visit next week to focus on boosting trade ties

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, January 5

GERMAN CHANCELLOR FRIEDRICH Merz will undertake a two-day visit to India next week that is expected to focus on shoring up bilateral cooperation in a range of areas, including trade, investment, defence and technology.

Merz's first trip to India as the chancellor from January 12-13 is taking place as New Delhi focuses on boosting its overall economic engagement with Europe against the backdrop of Washington's punitive tariff on Indian goods.

The German leader will

The German Chancellor will be in India on January 12-13

arrive in Ahmedabad on January 12. He will travel to Bengaluru after concluding his engagements in Ahmedabad, including talks with Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"The prime minister will receive Chancellor Merz on January 12 in Ahmedabad. The two leaders will take stock of the progress made in diverse aspects of the India-Germany Strategic Partnership, which completed 25 years last year," the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) said on Monday.

"The discussion will also focus on further intensifying cooperation in trade and investment, technology, education, skill and mobility, while also advancing collaboration in important domains of defence and security, science, innovation and research, green and sustainable development, and people-to-people relations," it said.

The German Chancellor's visit to India is taking place days before top leaders of the European Union arrive in Delhi for finalising the much-awaited India-EU free trade agreement.

India will host French President Emmanuel Macron next month. Macron is visiting India to participate in the AI Summit.

The MEA said Prime Minister Modi and Chancellor Merz will also engage with business and industry leaders and exchange views on issues of regional and global importance.
