Gutter water to wash fruits?

Virar: A street vendor was caught using filthy water from an overflowing gutter to wash fruits before selling them at Global City Naka, triggering outrage among residents. The incident occurred around 3pm on Tuesday and was recorded by local resident Vishwanath Shetty, who noticed the vendor sprinkling sewage water on apples and grapes. Shetty immediately alerted authorities by calling 112 and also contacted the Food and Drugs Administration. However, audio recordings of his conversations reveal evasive responses from officials, with little urgency shown. The video has since gone viral on social media, sparking anger and concerns over public health and food safety. Citizens are demanding strict action against vendors engaging in such unhygienic practices. The incident has also served as a warning for consumers to remain cautious.

Domestic fight leads to murder

Thane: A domestic dispute turned deadly at Ruchi Apartment near Sadashiv Dalvi Nagar, close to Diva station, after a husband allegedly attacked his wife with a sharp weapon during a heated argument. The Diva police took the accused into custody, and further legal proceedings are underway. The couple, who lived on the second floor of the building, got into a violent altercation following which the husband inflicted fatal injuries on his wife. The incident has intensified demands for a separate police station in Diva. Currently, the rapidly growing suburb is served by a small police outpost with limited staff, despite a population estimated between five and seven lakh. A new police station was sanctioned years ago, construction remains stalled due to land issues.

Lost money, land: NCLT orders liquidation

Pranali Lotlikar

MUMBAI

The National Company Law Tribunal has allowed the Centre's plea for winding up the Pune-based company, Netwealth Agrotech India Limited, after the tribunal found that it had committed fraud and cheated around 2,400 villagers, thereby siphoning off the invested money of poor villagers from Pune and Beed districts. The tribunal noted that the company is yet to repay the invested money of around 700 customers.

In its order, the tribunal appointed the official liquidator attached to the Bombay High Court as the liquidator of the company and directed him to carry out the procedure to take charge of the company's properties.

The tribunal, in its order, said, "The findings of the investigation conducted by the regional director (Western Region), Mumbai, under the Union Ministry of Corporate Affairs, reveal that the company had floated and operated unauthorised deposit-like schemes under the guise of plot allotment and assured returns, and that its affairs were conducted in a fraudulent manner, resulting in large-scale cheating of the public through acts of commission and omission by the company and its directors. The funds so mobilised from the public were misappropriated and siphoned off by the directors for purposes other than those represented to the investors, including diversion of monies, acquisition of properties, and non-refund of deposits, thereby causing substantial financial loss to a large number of customers and establishing a prima facie case of fraud and mismanagement."

In its petition, the Gol stated that the managing director of the company, Machindra Baban Mundhe, pended its business operations in 2014. However, in their sworn statements, the three directors gave consent for the takeover of all properties of the company by the government, at its discretion, for sale and repayment of the amounts due to customers.

"The company filed its balance sheets for the financial years ending 31.03.2013 to 31.03.2017 on the MCA portal only on 30.04.2018. However, the same appeared to be forged or fabricated, as they lacked previous year figures, the auditor's report, and notes to accounts. A further investigation revealed that the company raised approxi-

MNS secretary questions bank worker over Marathi

Ahadut Kharade

MUMBAI

A video of MNS' push for Marathi language has gone viral. It shows party secretary Anish Khandagle questioning a staff member at the Mahim branch of Bank of Maharashtra over alleged misbehaviour with customers and refusal to speak in Marathi. The employee allegedly maintained that he would not communicate in Marathi, even after being repeatedly asked to do so.

Following the confrontation, Khandagle demanded that the bank's branch manager issue an immediate written apology and transfer the employee. He also warned that the MNS would launch an agitation if the demands were not accepted. As per the complaint received by the MNS, a Marathi-speaking customer had visited the bank branch to inquire about a loan and was allegedly treated rudely by the employee. However, Khandagle told to communicate in Marathi.

Lack of rd claims teenager's life

Palghar: An 18-year-old boy from Tilonda (Ambe pada) village in Jawhar taluka died early Tuesday after failing to receive timely medical treatment due to the absence of proper road connectivity. The boy, Shailesh Magan Wagada, was suffering from a serious illness. With no motorable road for nearly four kilometers, villagers were forced to carry him in a makeshift palanquin across hilly terrain to reach a health-care facility. The delay proved fatal, and he died before receiving treatment. Tilonda, a predominantly tribal settlement, remains deprived of basic infrastructure, including roads and accessible healthcare. Locals said the village becomes completely cut off during the monsoon, making ambulance access impossible. No action has been taken so far, they said.
