KOTA. The major life milestone of turning 40 is often a time of reflection and transition. Today's women over 40's feel happier, as well as wiser and more confident.

Their health is one of their top priorities. They're optimistic about the future. And while they're dealing with the physical realities of getting older, they're not obsessing over wrinkles or extra pounds.

So let's try to understand the Mantra for this new found happiness quotient is in 40's in women.

From connecting on phone, to catching up over a cup of tea to exploring new places to travel in girl groups, women are learning to enjoy with friends without any guilt.

When women turn 40 experts believe that they get less affected by anyone's thoughts of them and rather feel free to listen to their inner voice while kindly ignoring the rest.

When Women starts accepting that there will be always some things that will never be the way they want them to be and instead start focusing on things that are important and with effort can bring change in their lives, they feel happy and content.

Women at this phase of life understand the value of their time and priorities and therefore are more open to saying No than Yes. They want to ensure that all the time they've got left is spent wisely, so they learn to say "no" to things politely without hurting the person.

Women with time have learnt to work smarter, not harder. When you're younger, missing out on a few hours of sleep every night in order to put in the extra effort at work might seem worth it.

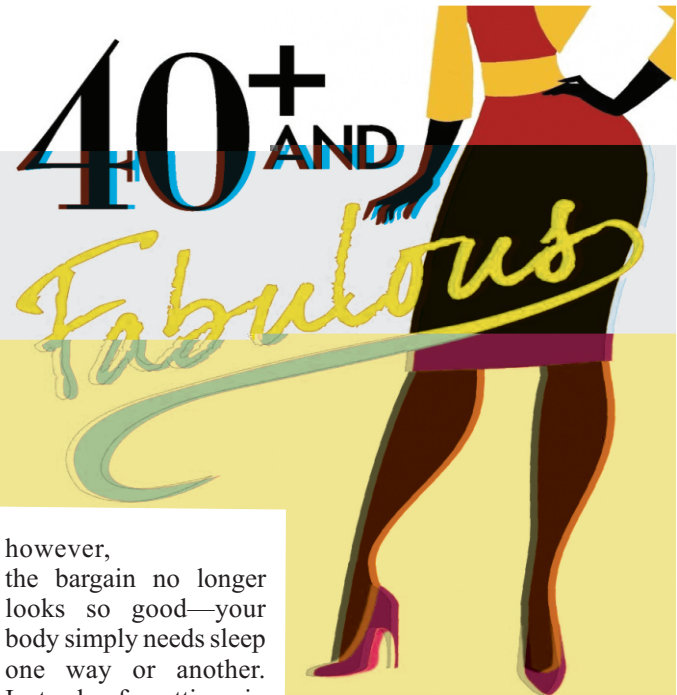

Once you hit forty, however, the bargain no longer looks so good—your body simply needs sleep one way or another. Instead of putting in extra time, then, it's important to streamline your work process—using the knowledge you've gained in almost two decades in the workforce.

Women often in their youth make mistake of thinking that they can do everything on their own nod feel reluctant to ask for help. However women now have accepted that you're old it's time to start accepting the help of others—or maybe even asking for it should the need arise.

serve them well; it's time to move on." if someone simply isn't working out as a partner or friend—no matter how many years you've known one another—it's time to say goodbye.

One of the biggest problems with self-esteem in young women stems from the fact that they are overly-dependent on others. Their parents have a big say in how and what they do before marriage, and in-laws after the marriage, their peers affect the way they dress and behave, and they are limited by a lack of funds and skills. A woman turning 40 is able to provide for herself and the people she loves, and this gives her the confidence to be herself, stand up for her beliefs. There is no feeling like having enough financial independence to call your own shots.

Women in their 40s choose this decade to start prioritising their overall wellbeing. Strong Daily Habits in Our Forties we women need to take care for aging gracefully from the inside out:

Yvr11yCE1S, uCE—Maintaining an unprocessed, lower-calorie diet

Yvr11yCE1f2z-z1~—Making time for “light and laughter”

Yvr11yCE1Yvr.1~Getting physical with family activity

Yvr11yCE1gz1z.E—Utilizing rich antioxidants and cool shades Healthy Mind & Soul Finding peace and balance through massage and meditation.

Women most cherished place home that she builds around her children is now an empty nest. After having taken care of her loved ones for the past 15 to 20 years, she finds herself lost, unfulfilled and feeling abandoned. Thus, hitting the big 4-0 is a good time to begin preparing for "what (you'd) like to achieve once the kids no longer need [your] full attention." So, have something planned—a new career or reviving an old hobby or venturing into new.

Congress will make come back in new avatar by making big changes

RAJESH GUPTA KARAWAN

KOTA. Jhalawar. The basic principles of 137 years of Congress are the principles on which the Congress got independence for the country or ruled the country for 70 years, in those basic principles, the people want to see it as a big change.

But we also need to feel this change, on this basis we need to formulate our policy, we need to take many important decisions like organizational change, priority to youth, regional balance, social engineering, with all this a new theme is needed. There is also a need to reflect all the changes based on the current perspective.

Such a theme should be our mainstay, so that a message should be sent to the workers and countrymen that Congress is not in a new look on the basis of make up, it is in the mood for change with major policy changes.

Only then we will be able to give a message till the grassroots level.

Those leaders who have been in politics for many years have weakened the organization and progressed their personal organization, they feel the signs of change, before that they say goodbye to the party, even such people will have to overcome the Congress leadership.

People will have to give priority to the party, they have unwavering loyalty to the party's policy, we have to bring loyal people forward before appointing a person of high profile in the organization or before the appointment to power or we can say that. The important person versus the loyal worker may have to be included in our decisions.

The party still has an army of many dedicated workers left in the country, who are ready to dedicate everything to the party at the behest of the party's leadership, so we don't need any PK for election management, there is a need to find it in the party.

Many PK are present in the party

After 137 years of the establishment of the party, again we need that decision which Mahatma Gandhi had given the slogan of do or die.
