Rupee rises 29 paise to 89.89 on RBI intervention

DHARAMRAJ DHUTIA
Mumbai, January 7

BOOSTER DOSE

THE RUPEE ENDED higher for second consecutive session on Wednesday on likely dollar sales from state-run banks, which traders said could be on behalf of the central bank, helping reverse the pressure from slightly softer Asian cues. The rupee gained 29 paise, or 0.3%, to close at 89.89, its highest level in a week, after closing at 90.1650 in the previous session. It hit an intraday high of 89.86.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) resorted to heavy intervention to support the rupee once again, nine traders said, and that pushed the currency to below the 90-per-dollar mark.

as US-related trade uncertainty eases should reduce pressure on the rupee. However, we expect the currency to remain range bound, as the RBI rebuilds foreign reserves if portfolio inflows recover," Goldman Sachs said in a note.

Wednesday's intervention followed a familiar playbook that the RBI used repeatedly last year, when it stepped in aggressively to push the rupee higher, aiming to disrupt one-way moves.

UBS sees rupee at 92 by March

Previous interventions came amid a build-up of speculative long dollar positions and expectations of consistent rupee depreciation, according to bankers.

UBS Investment Bank expects the rupee to weaken to 92 per US dollar by March, making the case that any relief from a potential US-India trade deal announcement would likely be undermined by the central bank replenishing foreign exchange reserves.

Before the central bank intervention on Wednesday, the rupee had fallen about 1% over the past two weeks.

From near-90-per-dollar levels currently, UBS's forecast implies a roughly 2% depreciation over three months, well beyond the March forward rate that's near 90.55 and a marked change from its November 2024 call of 87. —REUTERS

The currency rupee continues to face headwinds from persistent foreign selling of equities, a trend that has extended from 2025 into the New Year, alongside lingering uncertainty over a US-India trade deal.

Aditya Birla AMC sees 12% return from equities

LARGE-CAPS BETTER POSITIONED

ANANYA GROVER
Mumbai, January 7

italisation of India is at about 3.6% of the world market cap, and it presents a wonderful opportunity for foreign long-term allocators of capital, the only thing they have to wait for is when the rupee is going to stabilise, that is where they are losing most of their sleep on rather than their equity value."

ADITYA BIRLA SUN Life AMC expects equity returns in 2026 to be broadly in line with the previous calendar year, at around 10-12%, and believes large-cap stocks are better positioned at this stage of the cycle, as the phase of indiscriminate outperformance in small and mid-caps is behind.

"As and when trade deal does get annulled, we are going to see a flurry of foreign investor money to India," he added. The AMC noted that the profit pool of the top 1,000 listed companies has grown 11% year-on-year, while market capitalisation has risen only 6% as of November-end. This, it said, increases the likelihood of new market highs this year, driven by stronger earnings growth, lower rupee depreciation and new listings.

The AMC said that while the rupee could pose a short-term challenge, it represents a long-term opportunity. A trade deal, it added, would help arrest excessive currency depreciation and could act as a trigger for renewed foreign institutional investor (FII) inflows. It mentioned that investors could have a better experience this year, supported by a turnaround in sentiment, improving earnings breadth and momentum, continued strong domestic liquidity, prospects of a return of foreign portfolio investor (FPI) flows, and valuations that are more compressed than last year.

Krishnan said the aspect really is that which part of the market is likely to capture the upside because a lot of money seems to have gone into areas, sectors, and themes which played out wonderfully from 2020-24 but not necessarily moved to the new themes. He noted that the share of MF ownership in top 100 significantly lower than profit pool share of top 100 and said that there has a significant amount of money that has been chasing small caps in the last two-three years.

The AMC said its focus has shifted towards compounder sectors, with IT, FMCG and materials expected to be potential dark horses. Speaking at the company's annual market outlook, Harish Krishnan, co-chief investment officer and head of equity investments, said: "The current market cap-
