Sony LIV brings Ram Madhvani's The Waking of a Nation: Streaming from 7th March

Mumbai, Sony LIV is set to bring a lesser-known chapter of history to life with its upcoming fictional show The Waking of a Nation , a gripping series created and directed by National Award-winning and International Emmy nominated filmmaker Ram Madhvani . The show will stream from 7th March only on Sony LIV.

Set against the backdrop of the Jallianwala Bagh massacre, Kantilal Sahni played by Taaruk Raina , a lawyer, is thrust into a web of colonial deceit. As the Hunter commission distorts history to serve the ruling empire, Kantilal grapples with racism, erasure, and the fight for truth. Bound by an unshakable childhood friendship, Kantilal and his companions (Sahil Mehta as Ali Allahbaksh, Bhawsheel Singh as Hari Singh Aulakh and Nikita Dutta as Poonam, Hari's wife), despite clashing ideologies, unravel a conspiracy that reshapes their fate. In a world where justice is a mirage, will they expose the hidden truths or be consumed by them?

Speaking about the show, creator-director Ram Madhvani shared , "I have always been deeply interested in colonialism and, by extension, the issues of racism and prejudice. Questions surrounding cultural, linguistic, social, and artistic colonization have long troubled me.

As I was contemplating my next project, I knew it had to be rooted in our past, in the British Raj, and in our freedom struggle. That's when the idea for The Waking of a Nation came to life. Thanks to Sony LIV, we now have an exciting show that combines a courtroom drama with the powerful story of three friends and how India became India."

Produced by *Ram Madhvani and Amita Madhvani under the Ram Madhvani Films banner , the series features a stellar ensemble cast, including Taaruk Raina, Nikita Dutta, Sahil Mehta, Bhawsheel Singh, Alex Reece, and Paul McEwan amongst others. Written by Shantanu Srivastava and Shatrujeet Nath and Ram Madhvani , the show promises a compelling blend of historical intrigue, friendship, and the power struggles that shaped the massive investigation.

90's Soul with 2025's Flavour: The season of love begins with 'Pehla Nasha 2.0'

Mumbai, Aamir Khan's 'Jo Jeeta Wohi Sikandar' is etched in the collective memory of legions of film lovers. 'Pehla Nasha' an iconic part of 90's cinematic history was released in a new audio avatar as an earnest tribute to the original composers Jatin Lalit and lyricist Majrooh Sultanpuri. Originally voiced by Udit Narayan and Sadhana Sargam, 'Pehla Nasha-2.0' has been sung by Armaan Malik and Pragati Nagpal. The melody is composed by Amaal Mallik and penned by Rashmi Virag.

This promises to be another successful collaboration by Armaan, Amaal and Rashmi who have previously teamed up to give hits like 'Main Rahoon Ya Na Rahoon'. This fresh version carries their stamp with additional evocative lyrics by Rashmi and soulful Qawali interludes. As composer Amaal says, "Rashmi's lyrics and the additional mukhda enhance the romance of the original classic without altering its essence. The purity of the emotions and the core melody have been preserved because they are perfect but we have given the orchestral arrangement a contemporary resonance. The fresh voices of Armaan and Pragati Nagpal have also added a delightful layer of youthfulness to the song and am sure everyone will just love this new version."

The romantic video to be released soon, features Pragati Nagpal and Abhay Verma. Expressing his excitement at the launch, Armaan says, "Reimagining Pehla Nasha has been a dream come true. This song holds a special place in the hearts of so many, and I wanted to bring a fresh yet nostalgic touch to it. Pehla Nasha 2.0 is my tribute to the magic of first love, and I hope it resonates with listeners just as deeply." Amaal concludes, "I feel this version is the perfect soundtrack for any love story. It has 90's soul but with 2025's flavour and is just in time for Valentine's Day. ." The audio has been released by India's leading music label, Saregama.

When actor Kanwaljit Singh made everyone cry on the sets of Bada Naam Karenge

Mumbai, Veteran actor Kanwaljit Singh has been a stalwart of the Indian film and television industry, known for his nuanced and powerful performances. One such performance that has left an indelible mark on the hearts of the cast and crew of his recent release 'Bada Naam Karenge' while shooting, is the emotional scene that showcased Kanwaljit's exceptional acting prowess. Actor Kanwaljit Singh reflected on a pivotal scene, saying, "Our director, Palash, envisioned an emotional climax where my character, Anand Raathi, had to break down in tears. Initially, I was hesitant, as I felt it might be uncharacteristic for a family patriarch to express such intense emotions. However, after sharing my perspective, we found common ground. Ultimately, I trusted the director's vision—after all, he sees the bigger picture. I remember our in-depth discussions leading up to the scene, and when the moment arrived, I was surprised to find not just myself but the entire cast and crew in tears. The scene turned out beautifully, delivering exactly the emotion Palash had envisioned. As an actor, there is no greater satisfaction than moving people with your performance. I am grateful to Palash ji for directing the sequence with such finesse and to Rajshri for welcoming me into their family—something I have always wished for. Now that the series is out, I truly hope the audience connects with it as deeply as we did while making it."

Sensex, Nifty crash as US steel tariffs weigh on markets

Mumbai, Feb 11 (IANS) The Indian stock market crashed on Tuesday, with the Sensex and Nifty falling over 1.3 per cent in the afternoon trade, as US President Donald Trump formally announced plans to impose 25 per cent tariffs on all steel and aluminium imports. In the afternoon trade, the Sensex tumbled nearly 1,000 points, or 1.25 per cent, to around 76,300, while the Nifty slipped 300 points, or 1.3 per cent, falling below the 23,100 mark. The broader market suffered even more, with midcap and smallcap indices plunging as much as 3.5 per cent amid deeper concerns beyond blue-chip stocks.The ongoing market decline comes after former US President Donald Trump signed executive orders on February 10 to expand tariffs on steel and aluminium imports from March 12.

India, France stress on synergy at AI Roundtable on sidelines of summit

Paris, Feb 11 (IANS) The second India-FranceAI Policy Roundtable held on the sidelines of AI Action Summit 2025 stressed the potential for India and France to synergise on various policy positions and technological initiatives, fostering benefits not only at the bilateral level but also on a global scale by leveraging complementary knowledge and skill sets.

The roundtable discussion started with opening remarks by India's Principal Scientific Adviser (PSA) Ajay Kumar Sood where he highlighted India's priorities in global AI policy and governance, including responsible AI development and deployment, equitable benefit sharing, adoption of a techno-legal framework for AI governance, interoperable data flows, and collaboration on AI safety, research, and innovation.

Amit A. Shukla, Joint Secretary, Cyber Diplomacy Division, Ministry of External Affairs and Henri Verdier, Ambassador for Digital Affairs, French Ministry for Europe and Foreign Affairs gave co-chairs remarks highlighting DPI for AI, globalAI governance, AI foundation models and priority areas, such as integratingAI in addressing global challenges. They also mentioned cross-border data flows lacking arbitration mechanisms and the importance of aligned views on data sovereignty. Speakers at the roundtable emphasised the need for democratised access to AI resources, and capacity building while recognising the importance of techno-legal frameworks. The participants highlighted the significance of sovereignAI models, ethical AI deployment and the need to define globally accepted terminologies and standards. They also aligned on multilingual LLMs, federated AI compute infrastructure, and interoperable access to AI research, datasets, and high-performance computing resources.

Kohlu machine becomes centre of attraction at Maha Kumbh

Prayagraj, Feb 11 (IANS) Amidst the spiritual fervor of the Maha Kumbh, where millions of devotees gather to take a holy dip at the confluence of the Ganges, Yamuna, and the mythical Saraswati rivers, one unique attraction is quietly stealing the spotlight. In the heart of the Khadi Utsav pandal, a 'Kohlu machine' is drawing crowds with its traditional method of extracting pure, cold-pressed oil. This centuries-old process has captivated both health-conscious visitors and those keen on preserving ancient Indian practices.

The Kohlu machine, an age-old oil extraction method, is fascinating attendees with its natural technique, which involves extracting oil at a low temperature, preserving its nutritional value. The process is powered by wood and works without the high-speed machinery and intense heat associated with modern oil production methods. Visitors are not only witnessing a traditional craft in action but also learning about its health benefits. Talking to IANS, Vipin Kumar, a devotee said, "It's truly special to see oil being extracted this way. The natural process is incredibly beneficial for health. By coming here to the Ganga Sabha Triveni, we are not just connecting with the divine, but also gaining knowledge on how to stay healthy naturally and keep diseases at bay. The oil produced here is of excellent quality, and I had the chance to test it myself. "The traditional Kohlu machine works at a much lower temperature—around 30 to 35 degrees Celsius—compared to modern machines that run at temperatures of up to 100 degrees. This low-temperature extraction ensures that the oil retains its full nutritional value, unlike refined oils processed under high heat, which lose many of their vital nutrients. Chetan Rajput, a passionate advocate for traditional Indian methods, explained the significance of such practices: "I've been honoured with awards for promoting traditional techniques. Unfortunately, over the last fifty years, many of these methods have been forgotten. In India, nearly two out of ten people suffer from diseases like cancer and heart disease, largely due to refined oils and unhealthy cooking practices. The Kohlu process, on the other hand, runs on wood, maintaining temperatures that preserve the oil's nutrients. The machinery doesn't heat up to damaging levels, unlike the modern machines that spin at thousands of revolutions per minute, destroying the nutritional content. When we process foods in their natural way, we retain the goodness that nature intended. "Rajput further elaborated on the importance of natural processing, drawing a comparison to the production of sugar and jaggery. "Sugar and liquor are made from sugarcane, but what makes them harmful is the intense, artificial processing—high temperatures and chemical additives. On the other hand, natural processing, as seen with the Kohlu machine, is much healthier, retaining the essence of the seeds or fruits being used," he concluded. --IANSjk/dan
