b Sanjay Kumar Sanghi, MD, Sanghi Jewellers Private Limited said, “Today the gems and jewellery sector is getting consolidated. The retailers are getting organised slowly and they, in turn, are looking for organised manufacturers with best practices and best of the production capacity and capabilities. The big retail players are opening chain of stores across the country and are dependent on the jewellery manufacturers who can give a consistent supply. The word ‘manufacturers’ doesn’t mean only mere ‘makers’. It means “makers with constant innovation in designs with motivated passion to take jewellery designing to a level of art and culture”, which exactly what we believe in. I think the time has come for the jewellery manufacturers to be future-ready and the company listed is a big step in this direction.”
