Pre-arrest bail of 2 CR engineers nixed

Pranali Lotlikar

The Thane Sessions Court has rejected the anticipatory bail applications (ABA) filed by two Central Railway engineers, Samar Yadav and Vishal Dolas, who have been named as accused in connection with the Mumbra train accident that claimed several lives and left others injured earlier this year.

The court pronounced its order after extensive hearings from both the prosecution and the Railway Protection Force (RPF), following which the defence was informed about the rejection.

Defence advocate Baldev

Rajput confirmed the development, stating, "The court has not yet provided the detailed order copy, so we are unaware of the exact grounds for the rejection. However, we intend to approach the High Court seeking anticipatory relief, as we firmly maintain that the incident was a mere accident and not due to negli-

During the hearing, the Sessions Court had also questioned the defence's "domino effect" theory, which claimed that the mishap occurred when commuters travelling on the footboard of an overcrowded train brushed against bags carried by passengers in an oncoming train,

However. Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP) Sudhakar Shirsat refuted this explanation. He told the court. "No such bags were found at the spot. The RPF, while inspecting the site on the day of the incident, conducted a panchnama in the presence of independent witnesses, and there was no recovery supporting the defence's version. The prosecution's case relied heavily on a report submitted by the Veermata Jijabai Technological Institute (VJTI), which conducted a technical inspection of the accident site and submitted its findings to the RPF on October 14.

According to the report, senior section engineer Samar Yadav and assistant engineer Vishal Dolas were allegedly responsible, as they had sought a caution order to repair the railway tracks and join a gap between them. The inspection found a 17 mm gap, a 7 mm vertical difference, and a 4 mm lateral shift between the tracks, which allegedly caused the train to jerk violently on the fateful day. The VJTI report also cited

CCTV footage showing that the train coaches were "lurching and wobbling," corroborating the technical lapses that may have contributed to the accident.

With the Thane Sessions Court denying anticipatory protection, both engineers now face the prospect of arrest as the RPF continues its

On November 1, the Government Railway Police registered a case against Assistant Divisional Engineer Vishal Dolas, Senior Section Engineer Samar Yadav, and other officials responsible for track maintenance in connection with the Mumbra train

Collector to verify 'violations' in PMAY project in Kharghar

Raina Assainar

NAVI MUMBAI

The Maharashtra Coastal Zone Management Authority (MCZMA) has written to the Raigad district collector, asking him to verify and submit a detailed report within seven days on the alleged environmental violations at the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) housing project in Kharghar, being executed by the City and Industrial Development Corporation (CIDCO).

The MCZMA, during its 143rd meeting on February 4, 2020, had observed that portions of the PMAY site fall under Coastal Regulation Zone (CRZ-I), where construction within the mangrove buffer is prohibited, and that a minimum 100mt setback from the creek is mandatory.

The latest correspondence - marked as Reminder 2 and signed by Under-Secretary Vishal Madane on November 3 - noted that despite the earlier communications on October 9 and November 21, 2024, no response has been received from the collector's office. The letter follows a complaint filed by environmental activist BN Kumar of NatConnect, which was initially forwarded to the state government by the Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEF&CC) on August 23, 2024.

The complaint alleged serious environmental violations in the execution of the PMAY housing clusters Mansarovar and Kharghar. including possible breaches of mangrove buffer norms and CRZ guidelines. The MCZMA has once again requested the collector, who also chairs the District Coastal Zone Management Committee (DCZMC), to verify the allegations, take appropriate action, and sub-taken report. Kumar said the group's concerns arise from the increasing coastal erosion and sea-level rise being witnessed along Navi Mumbai's shorelines. "Unchecked construction close to natural buffers like mangroves can worsen the long-term impacts of flooding and salinity intrusion," he said.

mit a factual, detailed action-

"Building this close to the tideline interferes with the way coastal systems breathe. said Jyoti Nadkarni, convenor of the Kharghar Hills and Wetlands Forum, She cautioned that constricting natural buffers could cause tidal rebound, increasing flood risks for surrounding communities.

BEST leader's health worsens

The health of Shashank Rao, general ■ secretary of the BEST Workers' and Employees' Union, has deteriorated as his hunger strike entered its fourth consecutive day on Thursday. According to union sources, the police arranged for a medical examination after Rao complained of weakness and dizziness. Doctors who examined him reported that his blood sugar level had dropped to a dangerously low level. The strike organised under the banner of the BEST Workers' and Employees' Union - is part of an ongoing agitation to press for the resolution of key issues affecting BEST bus services and employees.

Drug syndicate: Dubai deportee's explosive 'celeb parties' reveal

Poonam Apraj

MUMBAI

In the drug trafficking case of 2022, the Mumbai police's Ghatkopar Anti-Narcotics Cell (ANC) unit has intensified its probe after the key accused, Mohammad Salim Mohammad Suhail Shaikh, 29, deported from Dubai late last month, made explosive revelations linking the drug syndicate to Bollywood celebrities, politicians, underworld connections and international party organisers.

According to police sources, Suhail, a resident of Khandiya Street, admitted during interrogation that he coordinated high-profile drug parties in India and abroad. Investigators suspect the presence of several film industry figures at these events. The police, however, clarified that no one has been charged yet, and the investigation to verify these links is underway.

The officials believe Suhail acted as the "coordinator" for a multi-state narcotics network spanning Maharashtra, Gujarat, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, and Telangana. The syndicate was allegedly led by drug lord Salim Dola, who is currently suspected to be in Turkey. The drugs were manufactured in a chemical factory in Sangli. Maharashtra, reportedly managed by Dola's associates. The investigation revealed that the Dola family coordinated production and distribution from Dubai. The interpol had earlier helped Indian authorities detain and deport Tahir Dola (Salim Dola's son) and Mustafa Kubbawalla (his nephew) in the UAE.

On November 12, a passport agent, Mohammad Sharib Mohammad Igbal Ansari, 42, was also arrested for allegedly helping traffickers procure fake documents.

Investigators said Suhail confessed to helping fugitives obtain fake passports and maintain contact with drug suppliers abroad. He also revealed that part of the drug profits was sent illegally to Dubai through hawala chan-

The ANC is now probing whether international drug cartels financed these luxury parties and if celebrities knowingly participated. The police have sought an additional five-day custody of

Heavy vehicle crash triggers another massive jam on Ghodbunder Road

Ghodbunder Road faced long traffic snarls on Thursday after a heavy vehicle hit a divider near Kajupada at 7am. There was major congestion in the Gaumukh Ghat and Versova Bridge areas, which already have poor road conditions and narrow lanes. Vehicles were stranded for hours, with traffic still uncleared by 9.30am. Residents questioned how heavy vehicles entered Thane despite a post-Text: Farival Savved
