Tomorrow Technologies Global Innovation Limited (TTGIL) Launches AI Bot
“CNI FinSight”
Strengthens Position as an Emerging Tech & IP-Led Company

Tomorrow Technologies Global Innovation Limited (TTGIL) today announced the launch of CNI FinSight, an AI-powered virtual assistant developed in-house and now available on a trial basis on the website of CNI InfoXchange Pvt. Ltd.

This launch marks TTGIL’s commercial deployment in the AI and emerging technologies domain, a key strategic direction shared with shareholders at the Company’s AGM of 2024.

CNI FinSight is an AI bot built for providing financial insights. CNI FinSight has been developed by TTGIL exclusively for CNI InfoXchange, a SEBI-registered equity research and financial content platform. The bot provides users with:

- Factual, structured, and concept-based insights on the Indian stock market
- Publicly available information explained in simple terms
- Non-personalized, research-aligned responses

The assistant does not offer personalized investment advice or recommendations, and is not intended to replace any licensed financial adviser, consistent with SEBI’s focus on enhancing investor education.

This marks a strategically important step in TTGIL’s transition into an IP-driven technology and AI solutions company, with a focused roadmap to build long-term shareholder value. This is made possible through development & ownership of Emerging Tech IP and building proprietary AI and software assets to be monetized via applications, platform services, licensing, and enterprise solutions. It will lead to the creation of a Global DevOps KPO for Emerging Technologies, either organically or via acquisition, to support all consortium IP. This unit will manage domestic billing, repatriation (per transfer pricing norms), and global development operations. TTGIL sees potential to scale this into the world's only dedicated emerging-tech DevOps KPO.

"CNI FinSight reflects TTGIL's clear strategic pivot toward high-value, AI-driven innovation. This is an important milestone in building a globally competitive portfolio of emerging technology IP that can unlock long-term growth for our shareholders."
