Celebi sues India on airports issue

Most of its investors are not of Turkish origin, it argued

Reuters
feedback@livemint.com
NEW DELHI

Istanbul-based airport services firm's clearance was revoked at Indian airports over Turkey's pro-Pakistan stance. BLOOMBERG

Turkey-based Celebi, which provides airport ground handling in India, has launched a legal challenge to New Delhi's decision to overturn its security clearance, arguing that the "vague" national security concerns were cited without any reasoning.

Amid growing public anger in India about Turkey's stance on Pakistan in the India-Pakistan conflict, the government on Thursday revoked Celebi's security clearance in the "interest of national security".

Celebi Airport Services India, in a 16 May filing seen by Reuters, asked the Delhi High Court to set aside that decision, arguing it would impact 3,791 jobs and investor confidence, and was issued without any warning to the company.

"More rhetoric of national security without elaborating upon in what manner is an entity a threat to national security is unsustainable in law," the company said in the filing, which is not public.

The order "fails to disclose any specific or substantive reason except for a vague and general reference to 'national security'... (it) provides no reasons or justification," it added.

The Indian government did not immediately respond to a request for comment from Reuters. The case is likely to be heard on Monday.

In its filing, Celebi said that while its shareholders were registered in Turkey, "majority end control" of the group is held by companies that do not have Turkish incorporation or origin. In revoking Celebi's clearance on Thursday, India's junior aviation minister, Murlidhar Mohol, said on X that the government had received requests from across India to ban Celebi.

"Recognizing the seriousness of the issue and the call to protect national interests, we have taken cognizance of these requests," he said.

The Shiv Sena party, a key ally in Modi's government, had held protests against Celebi in Mumbai this week, demanding that the city's airport sever ties with it.

Meanwhile, Air India has lobbied Indian officials to halt rival IndiGo's tie-up with Turkish Airlines, citing business impact and security concerns sparked by Istanbul's support for Pakistan, according to a person in the know and a document seen by Reuters.

Amid growing public anger in India against Turkey's stance on Pakistan in the India-Pakistan conflict, Indians have been cancelling holidays. Since 2023, IndiGo has had a leasing arrangement with state-backed Turkish Airlines, which has provided two planes with pilots and some crew to IndiGo to operate on New Delhi- and Mumbai-Istanbul routes. Air India asked the civil aviation ministry to disallow repeated extensions of the leasing deal, which must be renewed every six months, arguing it is benefitting Turkey and hurting Indian aviation, according to the person and a document Air India submitted to government departments, seen by Reuters.
