EPOS and Mindtree Expand Strategic Digital Engineering Partnership

Mindtree and EPOS to develop next-generation audio products, technologies, and experiences

Copenhagen — October 18, 2022 — Mindtree, a global technology services and digital transformation company, today announced that it has extended its relationship with premium audio and video solutions brand, EPOS as a digital engineering partner to help augment and accelerate the brand's development of audio technologies and solutions.

As part of the multiyear engagement, Mindtree will work as an integrated part of EPOS' development organisation, and take part in strengthening its product innovation, time-to-market, and customer satisfaction, especially in EPOS' high-growth enterprise audio and video segment.

Mindtree will provide a broad range of competencies and knowledge within development, maintenance, and quality assurance services to support and innovate all product categories of EPOS within the segments of Enterprise Solutions and Gaming.

"This collaboration is important for EPOS to ensure and further develop our portfolio of best-in-class solutions and technologies," said Jeppe Dalberg-Larsen, President at EPOS. "I am confident that Mindtree's extensive product engineering and testing capabilities, coupled with its flexible, transparent, and collaborative approach, will strengthen and support our ability to deliver differentiated audio and video technology, and sound experiences."

"We are pleased to partner with an acclaimed audio solutions leader such as EPOS in advancing state-of-the-art digital technologies," said Venu Lambu, Executive Director and President of Global Markets at Mindtree. "The shared expertise and passion of EPOS and Mindtree will help set a new benchmark in cutting-edge audio solutions and technologies that meet the rapidly evolving needs of enterprise users as well as gamers looking for superior experiences and engagement."
