India seeks chipmaking parity with major producers by 2032

SANKALP PHARTIYAL
November 20

UNION MINISTER OF Electronics and IT Ashwini Vaishnaw on Thursday said India's chipmaking capabilities are set to be at par with other major producers by 2032, an aggressive timeline that underscores the government's urge to bolster domestic manufacturing. "In case of semiconductors, by 2031-2032 — in that timeframe we will be equivalent to what many of these countries are at today," Vaishnaw told Bloomberg's New Economy Forum in Singapore. "Then it'll be a race which will be very fair and a level playing field."

The government's semiconductor push is in early stages, with the country boosting spending to attract designers and manufacturers. It has used a $10 billion

In case of semi-conductors, by 2031-2032 — in that timeframe, we will be equivalent to what many of these countries are at today

Then it'll be a race which will be very fair and a level playing field fund to fuel its chip programme, helping to bring about several assembly, packaging and testing ventures. Micron Technology has set up a plant in Gujarat and conglomerate Tata Group is one of 10 producers that'll fabricate silicon domestically. Still, India lags far behind chip industry leaders Taiwan and South Korea and nations such as the US, China and Japan, which are spending hundreds of billions of dollars to build domestic chipmaking capacities and woo the world's biggest companies.

The moves are aimed at securing supplies of components that are key for future technologies from artificial intelligence to self-driving cars.

Three of India's chip facilities will start commercial production early next year, Vaishnaw said.

India's sweeping state-backed semiconductor drive — coupled with its growing design ecosystem and deep bench of engineering talent — is helping the country reach a stage where private capital begins to flow in on its own, he said.

The government is hoping to attract chip giants in much the same way state-backed subsidies have encouraged Apple and its partners to manufacture iPhones in the country. —BLOOMBERG

India, Israel agree on terms for FTA

● Target 10-fold rise in trade

MUKESH JAGOTA
New Delhi, November 20

INDIA AND ISRAEL on Thursday signed the Terms of Reference (ToR) of a free trade agreement (FTA) that marks the start of negotiations to reach a deal.

The pact is expected to increase bilateral trade ten-fold in the next decade.

"India and Israel have decided to enter into negotiations for a FTA soon after having executed a bilateral investment treaty (BIT)."

"And collectively FTA and BIT will open the doors for greater market access, flow of capital, investments and trade," commerce and industry minister Piyush Goyal said after the signing of ToR in Tel Aviv.

While ToR for India was signed by Goyal, from the Israeli side Minister of Economy and Industry of Israel Nir Barkat in-

India and Israel have decided to enter into negotiations for a FTA soon after having executed a bilateral investment treaty (BIT).

The ToR of a FTA formally launches the negotiations, outlines the areas it will cover and sets a roadmap and timelines of negotiations. The BIT between India and Israel was signed in September.

"We will be aspiring for very large outcomes from our agreement. Rapid outcomes. We should aspire for a $30-40 billion bilateral trade in the next five years and look in the next decade to grow 10 times," Goyal said. In 2024-25, India-Israel trade stood at $3.62 billion.

Israel's trade minister Barkat said, "the foundation FTA that we have laid today will enable us to do things we would not have done with other countries."

He said the Israeli government is willing to help their companies to invest in India through help in raising capital to deploy in India and share even a bit of risk of that investment.

He also offered India

access to critical defence technologies.

Goyal said that trade complementaries exist between India and Israel and they do not really compete with each other. "Sensitivities on both sides will be respected," he added.

The minister is on a three-day visit to Israel starting Thursday. He is also leading a 60-member delegation of Indian businessmen.

This visit follows the visit of 130-member Israeli business delegation to India in February for meetings with their Indian counterparts. It was the biggest business delegation from Israel that has visited any country and was led by Barkat.

Goyal's visit comes just before the likely visit of Israeli President Benjamin Netanyahu to India next month. India's biggest exports to Israel are gems and jewellery, machinery and chemicals. Ferrous, precious and semi-precious stones, and machinery are the biggest items of import.

Non-revision of national wage floors disappoints House panel

FF BUREAU
New Delhi, November 20

LAWMAKERS HAVE EXPRESSED disappointment in the Union Labour Ministry failing to revise the non-binding National Floor Level Minimum Wage (NFLMW) for the last eight years.

These wage levels are expected to be revised biennially, in keeping with the price pressures in the economy and other factors.

The National Committee on Rural Labour introduced NFLMW in 1991 as a non-statutory measure to establish a minimum wage structure and reduce wage disparities across India, factoring into the rise in the consumer price index for industrial workers (CPI-IW).

Since it has only persuasive value, the Centre can only request states and union territories to fix and revise the minimum wages for all scheduled employment in their respective domains, ensuring they are not below the NFLMW. Sources who attended the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Labour and Employment said members across party lines, barring those from the ruling BJP, were critical of the labour ministry's "lapse" and asked it to submit in the next sitting, in writing, the reasons for not hiking the NFLMW, at its regular intervals. "Considering that the increase in floor wages is only advisory only on the part of the central government, and doesn't require it to bear any financial burden, the ministry's lapse is inexplicable," said a trade union source.

The Parliamentary Standing Committee on Labour and Employment has 29 members. Of them, 15 attended the Thursday meeting, including the committee chairman, Basavraj Bommai. Though the meeting was supposed to deliberate on the implementation of the labour codes, which have been hanging fire since 2019-20, a lion's share of the two-hour meeting was spent on the non-hiking of the NFLMW issue.

NFLMW was last revised from 160 to 178 per day, effective from August 1, 2017. In 2019, NFLMW was subsumed within the Code on Wages, 2019, which provides for the Centre to fix the floor wages. The Code stipulates that minimum wage rates fixed by the appropriate government shall not be less than the floor wage.

Proper and timely revision of the NFLMW by the Centre would have enabled millions of workers in sectors like plantations and services to benefit from the economy's buoyancy and escape poverty, provided states had followed the norm.

NHAI's public InvIT takes first step

MUKESH JAGOTA
New Delhi, November 20

THE NATIONAL HIGHWAYS Authority of India (NHAI) has set the ball rolling on its public Infrastructure Investment Trust (InvIT) that will in 3-5 years hold 1,500 km of highways.

The public InvIT will be in addition to the private InvIT - National Highways Infrastructure Trust (NHIT) — also sponsored by NHAI.

While creating new avenues for monetisation, the public InvIT will also enable retail investors to benefit from the returns of high revenue generating national highways. Like in the NHIT, the highway builder will also retain 15% of the units of the public InvIT as sponsor.

NHAI is in the process of establishing Raajmarg Infra Investment Trust (RIIT) as a public InvIT.

As part of this initiative, NHAI has incorporated Raajmarg Infra Investment Managers Private Limited (RIIMPL) as the investment manager for the proposed InvIT, according to a statement.

RIIMPL was launched by NHAI Chairman Santosh Kumar Yadav in Mumbai on Thursday. The investment manager is responsible for managing the trust's assets (which will come through NHAI's monetisation programme) and ensuring returns for unit holders.

Once an InvIT acquires assets after an upfront payment, it gets the right to collect user fees for 20 years. Return for the investors are paid through user fee collection.

RIIMPL is a collaborative venture with equity participation from leading banks and financial institutions including State Bank of India, Punjab National Bank, National Bank for Financing Infrastructure and Development (NaBFID), Axis Bank, Bajaj Finserv Ventures Ltd., HDFC Bank, ICICI Bank, IDBI Bank, IndusInd Bank, and Yes Bank, the statement added.

RE share in power generation to cross 35% by 2030, says Icra

ARUNIMA BHARADWAJ
New Delhi, November 20

THE SHARE OF power generation from renewable energy (RE) capacities, including large hydro, is expected to cross 35% by FY30 from 22.1% in FY25, with expected incremental capacity addition of 200 GW between FY25 till FY30, as per Icra.

This in turn also hinges on the extent of implementation of the ongoing project in the pipeline where the projects are bid out and the power purchase agreements are signed, the development of adequate transmission connectivity infrastructure as well as timely bidding for new RE projects, along with the PPAs signing by central nodal agencies, the rating agency noted.

Icra pointed out that after a sizable RE capacity of 47.3 GW awarded in FY24, which is followed by 40.6 GW in FY25, the bidding activity has slowed sharply in the current year with only 5.8 GW awarded in the first eight months of FY26.

CAG seeks greater uniformity in expenditure segregation

FF BUREAU
New Delhi, November 20

IN A SIGNIFICANT move to overhaul the country's public expenditure classification framework, the Comptroller and Auditor General (CAG) has issued a directive harmonising the Object Heads of Expenditure across the Union and all state governments, aimed at uniformity to budgeting and accounting systems nationwide.

The common and standardised list of Object Heads addresses decades-long inconsistencies in how states classify disaggregated expenditure.

These variations had long impeded inter-state and inter-temporal comparisons and complicated alignment with Union government accounts.

Under the directive, all states must adopt the harmonised Object Heads by 2027-28, a step expected to bring long-awaited clarity and comparability to budgeting.

"The wide variation among states in the operation of expenditure heads at the disaggregate level had been engaging the attention of multiple stakeholders and was impacting inter-temporal and inter-state comparison as well as those with the Union government," said Jayant Sinha, deputy CAG.

Sinha also highlighted progress on advancing the finalisation of monthly civil accounts, a reform aimed at strengthening fiscal transparency and enabling swifter decision-making.

Through coordinated efforts with state governments and the Reserve Bank of India, the date for rendering monthly civil accounts has been advanced from the 25th of the following month to the 10th in about ten states and the 15th in another eight. This acceleration ensures that state governments, the RBI, MoSPI and other stakeholders have timely fiscal information, thereby bolstering fiscal discipline.

Mamata slams SIR as 'chaotic, coercive'

UPPING THE ANTE on SIR, West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee wrote a strongly worded letter to CEC Gyanesh Kumar on Thursday, asking him to immediately halt the exercise that she claimed was "chaotic, coercive and dangerous".

Banerjee said she was "compelled to write" because the Special Intensive Revision of the electoral rolls in the state had reached a "deeply alarming stage", alleging that the drive was being run in an "unplanned, dangerous" manner that had "crippled the system from day one". The BJP, however, dismissed the allegations, claiming that the ruling TMC was "trying to halt the lawful SIR process" in the state.

"The manner in which this exercise is being forced upon officials and citizens is not only unplanned and chaotic, but also dangerous," the chief minister wrote, adding that the absence of "basic preparedness, adequate planning or clear communication" had pushed the process into disarray.
