NRF opens new 11,465 m2 warehouse in Italy

NRF is a leading supplier of engine cooling and air conditioning parts for the automotive aftermarket. The total offer exists of around 15,000 references, which is rapidly growing. Combined with an increasing sales volume, NRF needs to expand its warehouse capacity. After the announcing opening of a new 18,613 m² warehouse in Chitila, Romania, NRF is now opening a brand-new 11,465 m² warehouse with office spaces and a technical center in Quarrata, Italy. This is an increase of around 9,000 m² compared to the current warehouse in Prato.

NRF is proud to announce a major expansion in Italy with the opening of a warehouse in Quarrata, situated close to Prato where the current warehouse of NRF Italy is located. The opening of the new warehouse and office space reflects the company's goal to meet growing customer demand in that region. In addition, it will improve NRF's operational efficiency and ensures that the company can adapt easily to future growth expectations. The location will also facilitate for a local technical center for customer trainings.

In this new warehouse, NRF Italy will be better equipped to manage its inventory, streamline order fulfillment processes, and offer an even higher level of service to their partners in local markets.

Finally, NRF's commitment to sustainability is also reflected in this project. The new Italian warehouse is also intended to serve customers of surrounding countries. This significantly reduces the transport distance, resulting in a more effective local supply chain network.

The opening of the new warehouse is planned for Q1 2026. NRF does not expect any disruptions to their regular operations during the transition period.
