BROKERAGES BULLISH, RAISE TARGET PRICE TO ₹1,050-1,225 RANGE

Shriram Fin poised for faster growth: Experts

FE BUREAU
Mumbai, December 22

SHIRRAM FINANCE COULD enter a phase of faster and more competitive growth following MUFG Bank's ₹39,618-crore equity infusion, analysts said. Some brokerages believe that the NBFC could grow at rates comparable to larger peers such as Bajaj Finance and Cholamandalam Investment & Finance.

The stock on Monday gained 3.67% to close at ₹934.80 on the National Stock Exchange.

Most brokerages have given the 'buy' rating to the stock, and have raised the target price in the range of ₹1,050-1,225.

"We see this as a strategic investment by MUFG, with long-term plans that could include increasing its share-holding and eventually becoming the promoter," Emkay Global said.

Post infusion, Shriram Finance's networth is expected to rise sharply from about ₹60,404 crore as of September, taking its Tier I capital close to Bajaj Finance's levels and well above most non-PSU NBFC peers. Emkay estimates the Tier I ratio to rise by about 14 percentage points to nearly 34% by March.

Jefferies noted that the capital infusion would lift the tier-1 ratio to 30% and improve the likelihood of an AAA credit rating, boosting the competitiveness in commercial vehicle and MSME lending. While FY27-28 EPS is expected to decline 6-7% due to dilution, valuations remain reasonable at 1.9x FY27 post-money book value.

equity infusion and strong foreign parentage could fast-track the credit rating upgrade," ICICI Securities said.

Motilal Oswal described the MUFG entry as a "strategic inflection point", citing lower cost of funds, stronger balance sheet credibility and improved ability to compete in new commercial vehicle and other lower-yield segments.

CLSA has maintained its "outperform" rating on Shriram Finance and has raised its price target to ₹1,030 from ₹840. "While excess capital will temporarily boost NIMs and RoAs and dilute RoE due to lower leverage, expect long-term benefits due to improved profitability and entry into low-risk segments," the brokerage wrote.

The return on equity may remain subdued in near term due to size of equity infusion.

Growth unveils backup portal to protect users

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, December 22

STOCK BROKING PLATFORM Groww on Mondays said it has launched Groww Lite, a web-based emergency trading portal, to safeguard users during platform outages and technical glitches.

The new portal enables users to close or exit their open trading positions even if the main Groww app or website is temporarily inaccessible during an outage, the stock broking platform said in a statement.

"We are continuously working to make our core platforms even more robust. Groww Lite is designed as a safety layer for our users, something they hopefully never need to use, but can depend on completely when they do," the company said in a statement. Groww Lite is designed for maximum resilience by bypassing Cloudflare and standard routing layers.

control over their trades during critical market hours, even under outages or technical glitches. The new trading platform is a secure, desktop and mobile web-based platform built specifically for emergency trade execution. Operating on a separate DNS infrastructure, it remains functional even when core platforms or external cloud services face disruption.

IIFL aims to raise ₹4,000 cr via pvt credit

SAIKAT DAS

IIFL CAPITAL SERVICES aims to raise as much as ₹4,000 crore through private credit in the next two years to invest in mid-sized companies, according to its joint chief executive officer.

"We are in the process of hiring a team of five mid-level professionals for our private credit business as we scale it up," said Prakash Bulusu of the investment management firm that counts Canada's Fairfax Financial Holdings as its top shareholder.

IIFL Capital's planned debt raise is the latest addition to India's fast-expanding private credit market, which saw its biggest-ever deal earlier this year. The confluence of low domestic interest rates and ample liquidity is expected to spur more competition in the market, S&P Global said in a September report, while warning of re-surgent equity markets and debt mutual funds potentially derailing the market's momentum.

"We see multiple opportunities for private credit funding to mid-size companies," said Bulusu. The Asia-Pacific private credit market is projected to reach $92 billion by 2027, up from $59 billion in 2024, according to the Alternative Investment Management Association. IIFL Capital launched its first private credit fund in October, expecting to close it by March 2026 at ₹1,000 crore, Bulusu said.

GLOBAL FUND MANAGERS

have given a mild overweight to Indian equities, viewing the market as a potential diversification play against AI-driven regions, according to Bank of America's December Asia Fund Managers' Survey. The survey drew responses from 119 participants overseeing $293 billion in assets.

CLSAs has maintained its "outperform" rating on Shriram Finance and has raised its price target to ₹1,030 from ₹840. "While excess capital will temporarily boost NIMs and RoAs and dilute RoE due to lower leverage, expect long-term benefits due to improved profitability and entry into low-risk segments," the brokerage wrote.

QUICK TAKES

- Net overweight rises to 10% in December from 0% in November
- China's growth momentum has stalled profit rebound, though valuations above long-term averages are limiting enthusiasm for outsized gains.

Japan remains the region's clear favourite, as views on the policy impact of Prime Minister Sanae Takaichi remain positive. Short-term pullbacks are largely seen as healthy consolidation for a continuation of the rally, the report said, adding that with long-term rates trending steadily higher, investors favour banks alongside semiconductors, the latter driven by the AI theme.

On China, fund managers believe growth momentum has stalled.
