allocation for the development of infrastructure for EV under the Faster Adoption of Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME) scheme, given the huge focus of the government.

There should also be a taxfriendly regime and subsidiaries given to EV makers for smooth adoption. Allocation of funds to skill development centres will also benefit the industry, said sector experts.

According to Pankaj M Munjal, chairman and managing director, 'Hero Cycles, "Being the first after the GST roll-out and the second one after demonetisation, the ensuing Budget needs to focus on incentives to companies to invest in R&D of EVs and its charging infrastructure and tax holidays for EV manufacturers. We also hope that the government rewards people using clean mobility transport options with measures such as fiscal benefits and tax breaks."

Suresh KV, country head of ZF India, an auto components maker, said the focus on safety will enable India to cut accident rates and help the autoit has been speaking of translate into action."
