Quest Flow Controls Limited Signs Term Sheet Agreement with QUEST Flow Controls, LLC, Marking a Strategic Global Expansion

Mumbai, 29th July, 2025 – Quest Flow Controls Ltd (formerly known as Meson Valves India Ltd) (BSE CODE: 543982), globally recognized as the Valve Specialists, one of the leading manufacturers and servicing a diverse range of products, including valves, actuators, strainers, and remote-control systems, across various industries, is pleased to announce a landmark strategic partnership with QUEST Flow Controls, LLC, a U.S.-based valve and actuation solutions provider. As part of this initiative, Quest Flow Controls will acquire a 51% controlling stake in the American firm.

This cross-border collaboration is poised to create powerful synergies, bringing together Quest's world-class manufacturing capabilities in India with QUEST LLC's strong market presence and customer-first approach in North America. The Pune-based factory, known for its exceptional quality and its track record of supplying marine valves to the Indian Navy, will continue to be the backbone of production, ensuring consistent quality and global delivery standards.

QUEST Flow Controls, LLC located at 22820 Hufsmith Kohrville Road in Tomball (Houston), Texas, was formed in 2020 with focus on its customer-centric approach, quality and dependability. The company is well known for its considerable industry experience, strong relationships and extensive knowledge with key end-users, notable engineering contractors and well-known valve manufacturers developing the America's market. QUEST Flow Controls, LLC provides expertise in on/off and control valves and actuation for their target markets including Oil and Gas, Water/Wastewater, Mining and General Industry.

The acquisition represents a pivotal step in Quest's international growth roadmap, enhancing its market access, technological capabilities, and ability to serve a broader spectrum of industrial clients worldwide. It also underscores the company's long-term commitment to innovation, reliability, and global excellence.

Mr. Kishor Makvan, CEO of Quest Flow Controls Limited, commented on this acquisition, "We are thrilled to announce this strategic partnership with QUEST Valve and Controls, LLC, which marks a significant milestone in Quest Flow Controls' global journey. This collaboration is a testament to our shared commitment to quality, innovation, and customer-centric solutions. By combining our manufacturing excellence and proven track record in India with QUEST's strong industry relationships and domain expertise in the U.S., we are confident this partnership will unlock new avenues for growth and technological advancement.

This is not merely an acquisition, it's a convergence of strengths, culture, and vision. It reinforces our objective of becoming a global leader in flow control solutions, serving critical sectors with precision and reliability. We remain committed to maintaining the same high standards our stakeholders trust us for, while expanding our capabilities to meet dynamic global demands."
